

CONFERENCE VICE PRESIDENT – JAMES G. LEE, JR., who currently serves as the Vice President of the Southern California Conference holds a BA degree from Oakwood College (now Oakwood University) and an MDiv from Andrews University. Prior to holding the office of vice president, Elder Lee served as director of the African American Region (now Greater Los Angeles Region). Previously, he served as senior pastor of the Philadelphian, Normandie Avenue and El Segundo churches, and as associate pastor of the Altadena and Pacoima churches in SCC.

Elder Lee has a passion for soul winning and evangelism and seeks to instill this passion in the laity in our conference. He is a firm believer in a principle endorsed by Ellen White: that the clergy and the laity must work together to advance the kingdom of God, sharing the Three Angels' Messages with a dying and despairing world.
